REPORT OF THE CONVENTION EXHIBITS

From "The Florists' Exchange," August 28, 1915.

"Richard Diener, Colma, Calif., made a showing of unnamed Gladiolus seedlings that was a revelation; all shades of color were embraced in the collection. In size the flowers averaged 50 per cent. larger than most of the standard varieties. One, named D. J. Whitney, opens in a full cluster at the apex of the stem. The color is a salmon flesh, with two striped and spotted yellow and red under-petals. The flowers emerge in pairs from the main stem. Mr. Diener claims these result from his discovery of a new law in hybridization. The Gladiolus shown, for instance, are the first crosses from ordinary varieties."

From "The Florists' Exchange," September 4, 1915.

"To describe to those at home the wonderful Gladioli we have seen at the trade exhibition would sound like a fairy tale, but too much cannot be said about them; that's why the judges awarded to Richard Diener of Colma, Calif., a gold medal; and he told us that he has still better ones coming." (From "Fritz Bahr's Impressions of the San Francisco World's Fair Convention.")

GLADIOLI

PREFACE

All the varieties in the following list, which are Mr. Diener's own production, are now put on the market for the first time. They are not only double the size of all existing varieties, but the colors as well as the height of stems and number of flowers they bring, also excel. Some varieties bring as many as one hundred and thirty flowers to the bulb. Another good factor is, that all the corms, or bulblets, of almost all of the varieties, will flower the first year, producing larger flowers than existing varieties, and the rapidity of propagation is almost unbelievable. The stems of all our Gladioli are so strong and upright that they require no staking.

These new Gladioli are the result of the discovery by Mr. Diener of a new law in hybridizing, through which he is able to double the size of any flower, fruit or grain after each crossing. It would be impossible for anyone not knowing this law to obtain such results. Mr. Diener is the only man today who possesses the secret of this process.

Mr. Diener's Gladioli were acclaimed by everyone in the floral trade, as well as flower lovers, to be the chief attraction of all the floral exhibits at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, and were the inspiration of many articles written in the papers and magazines. Gladioli were shown from all over the world, and the competition was greater than ever before experienced at any world's fair, but Mr. Diener's Gladioli carried the highest awards. His prize winning Gladioli were as follows:

Mixed Seedlings awarded Grand Prize;
"Dr. Frederick T. V. Sciff" awarded Gold Medal;
"Diener's White" awarded Gold Medal;
"Captain Asher Carter Baker" awarded Silver Medal.

Awarded the S. A. F. & O. H. Gold Medal at 1915 Convention Exhibit for our collection of Gladioli.

By the interest of the public shown, and by the orders already placed, we think without a doubt that these Gladioli will be the best sellers of any variety of flowers in the coming years. We feel that these bulbs will be sold readily at sight when they are once shown in flower, as their beauty is so much more striking than the old varieties that they take the fancy at once. We are also sure that when our Gladioli are once grown, the other varieties will soon become obsolete. All our bulbs are free from disease.

Our new Petunias and Carnations which we offer are obtained by the same process of hybridization, and great things may be expected in this line in years to follow.

Visitors are always welcome.

Kentfield is located 14 miles north of San Francisco, on the Northwestern Pacific Railroad.

METHOD OF SOWING GLADIOLI SEED.

The seed should be sown early in the spring, like onions, to the depth of 1½ inches, in drills 15 inches apart. Sow out in open sunshine. They should not be shaded. They will make little growth the first six weeks; after that they will grow rapidly. The ground should continuously be kept moist until flowering. Keep the ground thoroughly cultivated throughout the summer. Do not use any mulching.

Delphinium — Vanderbilt's Hybrids

DELPHINIUM---VANDERBILT'S HYBRIDS

These new Delphiniums, produced by Newell F. Vanderbilt of San Rafael, California, are a cross between the California wild Delphinium (which is absolutely mildew free) and the best of Burbank's Hybrids. The result is an almost mildew free Delphinium. They are much larger than the best Delphinium now existing, and are immensely valuable for the production of cut flowers, as they give three successive crops in one summer, and all summer long are full of fine, long spikes. They are suitable for cutting as well as for bedding. They are unquestionably the world's highest attainment in Delphinium, and anybody raising cut flowers will certainly find them highly profitable. We have secured the whole stock of these Hybrids, and are the sole distributors of them. They come in all shades, from light to dark blue. Almost all colors are iridescent. Try a package of the seed and you will never regret it, for they are sure money makers.

Trade Package75c

DAHLIA SEED---MIXED

This seed is raised from seedlings of the very best present day Peony, Cactus and Decorative varieties, and will produce flowers of almost any imaginable form or combination of colors. Our rainless California summers make it possible to get seed even from the very double varieties, a result extremely difficult in States where it is rainy during the time when the seed should set.
